

What Servant Does Jesus Seek?

Summary of the Sermon:

In this sermon, our pastor explores the call to spiritual vigilance in the last days, emphasizing the importance of both watching for prophetic signs and preparing our hearts for Christ's return. Drawing from Scripture and the writings of Ellen White, he explains that true readiness requires more than just knowledge—it demands personal transformation and sanctification. The faithful servants of God will be those who seek holiness, examine their hearts, and surrender completely to Him. As the world moves toward the fulfillment of prophecy, we are reminded to stay alert, spiritually awake, and fully committed to walking in God's will.

Description of the Sermon:

Jesus warns His followers to stay watchful, for no one knows the day or hour of His return (Matthew 24:42). In this message, our pastor calls us to examine our own spiritual condition, ensuring that we are not just aware of world events but also prepared in heart and mind. True discipleship means letting go of false beliefs, seeking sanctification, and living in full sincerity before God. Using biblical teachings and insights from Ellen White, this sermon challenges us to take our faith seriously, remain vigilant, and be counted among those who are truly ready when the Lord returns.
